

Treatment Of Kidney Failure

When your kidneys fail, your doctor will tell you when you need to start treatment. This decision is based on your medical condition and the result of your blood test.

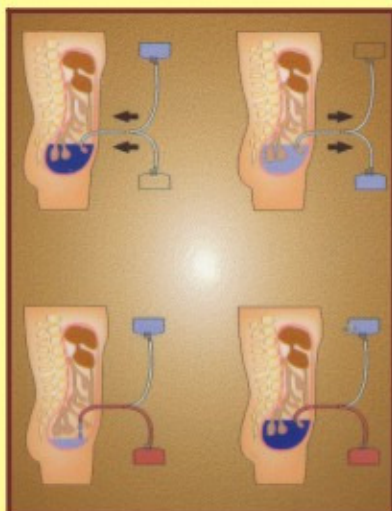

Kidney Transplant

- Best form of treatment for kidney failure
- No dialysis needed
- Normal diet
- Need to take antirejection medications
- Regular clinic visits
- Lack of organ donors

Haemodialysis

- Vascular access surgery required
- Travel to a centre 3 times a week
- 2 needles inserted at each treatment
- On restricted diet
- Fluid restriction required
- Regular contact with other patients

Peritoneal Dialysis

- 4 bag exchange per day
- Independence & control over schedule
- No needles
- Less restricted diet
- Risk of infection

Each type of treatment has its advantages and disadvantages. You will need to talk to your doctor and your family regarding which treatment is most suitable for you
